

THE ARMENIAN SCHOOL OF LONDON

Լոնտոնի Հայկական Վարժարան

Prospectus Summary · October 2026 · Planned opening September 2031

Concept visualisation. The site purchase and planning consent are not yet secured.

A school we have never had

Armenians have lived in Britain for almost two centuries, yet there has never been a full-time Armenian school here. Families rely on Saturday and Sunday schools — heroic, but no substitute for a Monday-to-Friday education in which Armenian is part of everyday life.

The Armenian School of London will be an independent day school for children aged 3 to 11, teaching the English National Curriculum alongside Western Armenian, Armenian history and culture, and the Armenian Apostolic tradition. We plan to open in September 2031 with a nursery and Reception to Year 2, and grow one year group a year to Year 6.

What makes it different

- Bilingual from day one: Western Armenian every day, with support for Eastern Armenian speakers.
- Small classes of up to 26 and a 40-place nursery.
- A full curriculum: English, maths, science, humanities, art, music, PE — plus Armenian history, music and dance.
- A school day of 8:30–15:45, with breakfast and after-school clubs 7:30–18:00.

- A qualified SENCO and a pastoral lead from the start.

The site and the building

We are pursuing about 1.25 acres of land on Creffield Road, Ealing W5, a five-minute walk from Ealing Common station and close to the Elizabeth line at Ealing Broadway. The plan is a purpose-built school of about 20,000 sq ft: seven classrooms, two nursery rooms, a gymnasium, a cafeteria where children eat their packed lunches, a library, a playground and nursery garden — with an auditorium added in a second phase.

A school on this site needs planning consent for school use. We will seek Ealing Council's advice first and make any offer conditional on consent.

Fees (planned)

	Per term	Per year
Reception to Year 6	£4,500 + VAT	£16,200 including VAT
Nursery — mornings 8:30–12:00	£600	No VAT; 15 or 30 funded hours a week are free
Nursery — full day 8:30–15:30	£1,150	No VAT; 15 or 30 funded hours a week are free

Fees are planned for 2031/32 and are expected to rise about 3% a year. We will offer a 10% sibling discount, means-tested bursaries and monthly payment plans. We are a packed-lunch school, so there are no catering charges.

The road to opening

When	What happens
2026–27	Founding committee, charity registration, interest register, planning advice

2027–28	Land secured; school planning consent; architect appointed
2029–31	Building designed and built; school registered with the DfE and Ofsted
September 2031	Doors open: Nursery to Year 2
2032–35	Years 3 to 6 added; auditorium built

How it will be funded

The land and building will be funded by a founding capital campaign of about £13.6m, supported by a mortgage on the land so the site can be secured early. Day-to-day running costs will be met by fees, government nursery funding and recurring support from the Armenian community and its institutions. The full business plan and financial model are available to registered supporters.

Be part of it
